1984	16th June Willem de Zwijgerkerk, gebouw "Moria", Speerstraat 7, Amsterdam	Tom de Munck schreef in het Freewave Media Magazine dat het jammer was dat er niet meer reclame voor was gemaakt want dan was de opkomst beter geweest. Verder valt te melden dat op die dag voor de eerste keer de zwart wit film over Radio Nord werd gedraaid, naast een aantal andere historische videos. Ook werd de Soundtrack van een LP, geproduceerd door Paul Jan de Haan en Hans Knot, over Radio London door het aanwezige publiek beluisterd. SMC stelde dat de LP op een later moment zou worden uitgebracht. Helaas is dit nooit gebeurd, waarna in 1994 de dubbel cd over BIG L, een productie van Hans Knot, alsnog uitkwam.

From 1979, the Radio Days were hosted by the Stichting Media Communicatie (SMC) which was founded in 1978. In the very beginning, the radio magazine "Victoria" (editor: Jos Leijgraaf) co-hosted the event. From 1982, SMC and Freewave Media Magazine conjointly organised the Radio Days which in the eighties were called "Zeezenderdag", "Piratomidag" or "Zeezenderfilmmiddag".

Hans Knot and Jelle Boonstra did most of the interviews on stage. Since 2004, they were complemented by Wayne Hepler, Ian Biggar, John Ross-Barnard, Bob Le-Roi, Jan Parent, Walter Galle, Steve Conway, Bob Preedy, Bert van der Laan, Paul Rowley, Jan Olienoot (Leendert Vingerling), John Ross-Barnard, Juul Geleick, Marc Jacobs, Ronnie Forslund, Trevor Adams, Nico Steenberg, Robbie Owen, Tom Mulder, Luc de Groot, Bob Lawrence, Fons Winteraken, Svenn Martinsen, Stuart Aiken, Robbie Dale, Marc Jacobs (Rob van Dam), Ray Clark, Hans Hendriks, Johnny Lewis, Bob Noakes, Martin van der Ven, Rob Oltorf, Andy Archer, Herbert Visser and Wim van Egmond.

And it has become a tradition that Ben Meijering is taking the official Radio Day video footage during the events.
